

Resources for further inquiry

- Jubilee South is a network that serves, protects, and promotes participation of the most vulnerable populations by addressing debt, tax, transparency, and trade policies.
<https://www.jubileesouth.org/>
- Focus on the Global South is an activist think tank in Asia providing analysis and building alternatives for just social, economic, and political change. Work on Political economy of development, power and democracy, and peoples' alternatives can be found here:
<https://focusweb.org/>
- Triple crisis is a blog that provides a global perspective on finance, development, and environment. <http://triplecrisis.com/>
- The South Centre conducts policy-oriented research on key policy development issues that supports achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals.
<https://www.southcentre.org/>
- INET is a network of economists who challenge conventional wisdom and advance ideas to better serve society. A host resources including webinars, podcasts, articles and working papers can be found here: <https://www.ineteconomics.org/>
- The Whirled Bank Group publishes a critical (and humorous) commentary on World Bank policies at: <http://www.whirledbank.org/>
- ITN has offered news, analysis and opinions on international investment law and its implications for sustainable development. <https://www.iisd.org/itn/>
- The Committee for the Abolition of Third World Debt provides a timely look at international developments related to third world debt and development issues at:
<http://www.cadtm.org/English>
- Public Citizen provides resources on the workings of and struggles against big business in an era of globalization and support for progressive alternatives that benefit the people and planet: <https://www.citizen.org/topic/globalization-trade/>
- Dollars & Sense is a non-profit, non-hierarchical, collectively run organization that publishes economic news and analysis, with the mission of explaining essential economic concepts by placing them in their real-world context.

<http://dollarsandsense.org/index.html>

IMF

- The IMF describes its structure and activities here: <https://www.imf.org/en/About>
- IMF publishes news articles about trends in the world economy which can be read on-line: <https://www.imf.org/en/news>
- The IMF publishes a monthly magazine, Finance and Development, which has short, policy-oriented articles "on major issues affecting the international monetary system and the global economy." Finance and Development can be accessed on-line at: <https://www.imf.org/external/pubs/ft/fandd/2020/06/index.htm>
- Other publications from the IMF can be found here: <https://www.imf.org/external/pubs/ft/fandd/2020/06/index.htm>

Philippines

- The Freedom from Debt Coalition has been in existence for over three decades and has developed definite alternatives for national and human development, while campaigning against unjust and unsustainable neoliberal economic policies. <https://fdcpills.org/>
- The National Statistics Office, Republic of the Philippines: <https://psa.gov.ph/>
- Focus on the Global South, Philippines Program: <https://focusweb.org/category/countries/philippines/>

Asia

- Asia Monitor Resource Center provides information, consultation, publications, documentation, and internships, and conducts research, training, advocacy, campaigns, labour networking, and related services to trade unions, pro-labour groups, related NGOs, academics, researchers, and professionals on labour issues. <https://www.amrc.org.hk/>

Americas

- Alternatives for the Americas, Alliance for Responsible Trade Alternatives for the Americas is not solely an economic doctrine, but is rather an approach to social integration through which the ideas, talents and wealth of all of our peoples can be shared to our mutual benefit. It is a living document that will be altered and expanded as we exercise our rights to continue the debate and discussion:
<http://web.net/~comfront/alts4americas/eng/eng.html>
- International Development Economics Associates is a network of thinkers committed to developing more appropriate and progressive analysis of development challenges.
<https://www.networkideas.org/>
- Venezuela Analysis is an independent website produced by individuals who are dedicated to disseminating news and analysis about the current political situation in Venezuela. <https://venezuelanalysis.com/>
- Systemic Alternatives is an initiative that aims to build an interactive dialogue to deepen the analysis and strengthen the alternatives that are being developed by grassroots movements and thinkers to overcome the capitalist system.
<https://systemicalternatives.org/category/english/>